@NACCCaterCare #CARECHEF2022

INTRODUCTION

Sue Cawthray
NACC National Chair

The search is on for the NACC Care Chef of the Year 2022

The National Association of Care Catering (NACC) Care Chef of the Year competition is a fantastic platform to spotlight the skills, knowledge and excellence of chefs working in our sector. Delicious, nutritious food and positive dining experiences are fundamental to quality care, so you could say that the kitchen is at the heart of a care home. It's therefore only right that we celebrate and champion the incredible talents of care chefs who, day-in-day-out, ensure the individual and varied needs of those in their care are understood and met with skill, flair and dignity.

I encourage you to enter your amazing chefs and showcase the culinary excellence you deliver. It is not only open to those working in care homes but extends to local authorities and other care organisations, including hospices. The NACC Care Chef of the Year competition is the longest standing care chef competition in the UK and continually challenges people who operate within the care sector to create innovative and exciting recipes whilst adhering to a strict budget and meeting the nutritional needs of their clientele. Year-on-year, it continues to raise the profile of catering in the care sector and the achievements and opportunities for those working within it.

Steve Munkley
NACC Head Judge

I am delighted and honoured to be asked to be Head Judge of the NACC Care Chef of the Year competition. I am excited to see what the great chefs of the care industry can do – especially after the last few years. I wish all competitors the best of luck!

After 44 years in the catering industry as a chef I now act as consultant on many different projects. I currently act as Salon Director for Salon Culinaire at The Hotel Restaurant and Catering Show, Ambassador for the Grande Cuisine Academy, leading figure in organising events for the Craft Guild of Chefs, along with many other voluntary and training roles within the industry.

Alex Hall
Executive Chef at Unilever Food Solutions

We are very excited and proud to continue sponsoring the National Association of Care Catering (NACC) Care Chef of the Year competition in 2022.

This competition provides a great opportunity for care chefs around the country to showcase their skills and raise the profile of care catering and this event offers the perfect platform to do this.

Our team at Unilever Food Solutions is delighted to be working alongside chefs within the care sector to ensure that every mealtime is the highlight of the residents' day, be that supporting with activities to nutritionally analysed recipes, training, inspiration and competitions like this. We look forward to seeing how this year's competitors rise to the challenge and wish them the very best of luck.

Virginia Bond
Master of the Worshipful
Company of Cooks 2022

Once again, the Worshipful Company of Cooks is proud to sponsor the NACC competition.

For more than 500 years we have been involved in the world of cookery; initially being responsible for standards of catering and hygiene in the City of London and more recently closely engaged, through our support for competitions such as this one, in encouraging chefs to achieve high standards that they can then take back into their workplace. We also help train and educate young chefs just starting off in their careers, support them along their journey and support caterers in our Armed Forces. To all competitors we send our best wishes and we look forward to being able to host the winner at our annual Prize Winners' Lunch when you will be able to sit back and enjoy the results of someone else's hard work. Good luck!

SPONSORS AND SUPPORTERS

Thank you to our sponsors without whom we would not be able to have such a prestigious competition.

We believe our care homes should feel just like home. That's why we're making residents our top priority, by providing added value services and being the preferred Food Solutions partner within the Care Sector.

Our four core principles are what drives us. MIND means providing meaningful activities to boost the overall mental and physical wellbeing of residents in a care setting. HEART means to bring people together to create happy environments and a sense of belonging. BODY means to care for the nutrition of each resident via our recipes and menu inspirations. And GROWTH means to empower, train and inspire chefs through our elderly care specialist culinary team, in the hopes of enhancing the mealtime experiences of residents.

Whether it's cooking from scratch or for convenience, and whether it's meat free meat, bouillons, gravies, sauces or dressings, we've got the backs of all chefs. Our extensive range of products have been developed to deliver the flavour your residents will love and enjoy. This Is Home | Facebook @UnileverFS_UK www.linkedin.com/company/unileverfoodsolutions-ukie/

Our sponsor for the twelfth year is The Worshipful Company of Cooks. The smallest of London's Livery Companies, the Worshipful Company of Cooks can trace their origins back to the 12th Century. Thirty-fifth in order of seniority in the City Livery Companies. It was founded from two guilds of cooks in medieval London – the Cooks of Eastcheap and the Cooks of Bread Street. Receiving its first charter in 1482, the Cooks' Company is as vital today – actively supporting the modern day craft and catering industry, as well as funding a range of charitable activities – as it was when it controlled all the catering trade within the 'Square Mile'. The Company is no longer an association of tradesmen in its original sense of control: yet its membership today still includes craft tradesmen as well as active engagement with a broad range of organisations associated with cooking. www.cookslivery.org.uk

WHAT IS REQUIRED?

We are looking for a two course menu, main course and dessert, suitable for service users in a care setting. The combined food cost for both courses should be no more than £3.00 per head based on three portions and the meal should be nutritionally balanced and incorporate one of the Unilever Food Solution's products as listed in the competition rules 9.

Each contestant will be given 90 minutes to produce the meal.

Closing date for entries:
6th May 2022

HOW TO ENTER

With the 22 previous winners of this illustrious title proudly displaying their award in their place of work, are you the next to generate a winning recipe?

Please encourage participation in this competition as it is a very effective means of raising the profile of care catering, and puts presentation and creativity skills to the test. It is a very useful tool in the workplace with regard to staff development.

The entry form can be completed online via the link below or via the form on pages 6 – 9 of this brochure

JUDGING

Our panel of experts will view your entries and regional cook offs will take place in June / July and then the best two from each of the six NACC regions will be invited to a cook off in the final on 5th October 2022. The location of the final will be confirmed closer to the time. All entries must state the client group they are suitable for, but will be served in a competition style for the final. The judges' decision is final and no correspondence will be entered into.

COMPETITION & RULES

1. On the day of the regional heat and final all competitors to be correctly dressed for the kitchen taking into account removal of jewellery and the wearing of the correct head attire.
2. Competitors to provide their own ingredients for production of three (3) servings of their main course and three (3) servings of dessert all to be presented competition style.
3. Competitors to provide their own plates and dishes for presentation, although the kitchen is partially equipped the organisers recommend that each competitor provide their own pans, sieves, knives, cutting boards, cloths etc. Plates for the main course must be relevant to the serving of the meal within their care home. No plate liners are to be used.
4. The schedule for the event must be adhered to in particular the times for finishing and judging. These times will be circulated before the event.
5. At the final, 90 minutes preparation and cooking time will be allocated. If any amendment to the submitted recipe is to be made, the competition cost parameters must be followed and approval of the amendment must be given. Inform the organisers in writing of any amendment as soon as possible.
6. Competitor entries should take into account a balance of ingredients and nutrients in line with NACC nutritional guidelines.
7. Some preparation is allowed prior to the cook-off. If competitors are producing their own marinades and subsequently marinating products, this may be done before the event. This being the case samples of marinades must be brought to the event.
8. Similarly with stocks, stocks can be made and brought along to the event.
10. Maximum food cost of £3 net for both courses per head must not be exceeded. All competitors should provide a breakdown of the recipe cost together with the supplier it was sourced from.
11. Competitors will be allocated a workstation upon arrival.
12. The use of a commis chef or kitchen assistant is not allowed.
13. All recipes become the property of the NACC and can be reproduced in publicity materials without prior consent.
