The ONSIDE Project offers people who are 16+ and who have a disability, the opportunity to get more digitally and socially included. Participants receive a tablet device, and get 6/7 sessions of beginners group training on things like email, using zoom, online safety and accessing books and magazines online for free and lots more.

Participants are also linked with a Community Navigator who will then map out tailored social connections e.g. online hobbies, online health & well-being classes and social media platforms, based on participants' interests and needs. Feelings can feel really BIG & SCARY & POWERFUL. So the more we understand them, & share them with a trusted adult, the less overwhelming they can feel.

It can be really helpful to NAME them & say them out loud. Dan Siegel says 'Name them to tame them.'

feelings are different to thoughts feelings can be mixed, blended & messy like Spaghetti. We can also have more than 1 feeling at a time like a puzzle or a rainbow feelings can change - they're not fixed

Feelings come in lots of different

SHAPES & SIZES

Feelings are really important. We all have them. We can LEARN lots from them & the more we UNDERSTAND them, the less BIG & SCARY they can feel.

Feelings can spread & travel to & from other people.

We are all UNIQUE & SPECIAL. So we all feel emotions differently. This is normal & OK!

It's HELPFUL to think a bit more about what our feelings look like & mean to each of us.

SOME KEY MESSAGES about FEELINGS

We can also feel different feelings in our body & our body can give us messages & clues.

Helping Your Child Deal With Their Anxieties

One of the ways we assist children is to build their confidence in taking (age appropriate) control of situations that affect them, in doing this we teach them that difficult emotions may not be pleasant but sometimes we have to live with them and that these feelings, although frightening and unsettling, can be manageable.

Ask your child how they might deal with things

By doing this we are allowing the busy brain to be constructively busy, allowing it to work on coming up with solutions as opposed to busying itself being worried.

Remember the importance of age appropriateness, a perfectly good solution to a child being upset or afraid is to tell an adult.

ASK - Who might you want to tell? What if you couldn't get them? Anybody else? What might you say?

If we help a child break BIG worries into small manageable worries, then we reinforce the idea that the world and more importantly THEIR world is not a scary place for them.

It is understandable that worries might arise for Parents and children in relation to Covid related concerns- more specifically the reintegration of "normal activities"

Respect a child's concerns and then aid them in coming up with solutions.

ASK - what might help you feel less worried?

Reinforce what they already know, but encourage them to say it themselves, eg washing your hands, covering your mouth with your elbow etc.

THE EMOTIONAL CUP

Imagine that every child has a cup that needs to be filled -- with affection, love, security, and attention. Some seem to have a full cup most of the time, or know good ways to get a refill. But most children get a little nervous when their cup gets near empty.

Some ways that children deal with having an empty cup:

- steal from other people's cups
- misbehave to get your attention and show that they need a refill
- seem to have bottomless cups, or need constant 'topping off'
- can't sit still for refills or actively refuse them
- bounce off the walls when they approach 'empty'
- think they have to fight or compete for every refill

What fills a child's cup:

- play
- friendship
- one-on-one time
- love and affection
- connection
- succeeding
- doing what they love to do or what they choose to do

What empties the cup:

- stress and strain
- rejection by peers
- loneliness and isolation
- yelling and punishment
- failing
- fatigue
- doing what they're forced to do or they hate to do

Stress Bucket

Imagine there's a bucket you carry with you which slowly fills up when you experience different types of stress. It's important to find activities which help you lighten the load.

Complete the diagram below. Write the things that can cause you to get stressed at the top, going into the bucket and at the bottom, write the things you can do to help relieve your stress.

Talking to your child about mental health

We understand it can seem difficult to talk to your child about their emotional health. Here are some top tips for starting the conversation.

Start small

You don't need to set hours aside to chat, just opening up conversation can make a difference

Let them know

Let your children know you are happy to talk and listen to them about any worries they may have

Keep it informal

Informal spaces like car journeys or whilst watching TV allow great opportunities to talk about serious topics in a relaxed way. TV shows and characters are a good way to bring up the topic

Use appropriate language

Talk in their language rather than using terminology they may not understand, but most children will understand the idea of feeling stressed, anxious or low. Explain this is what is meant by mental health

Use face flash cards

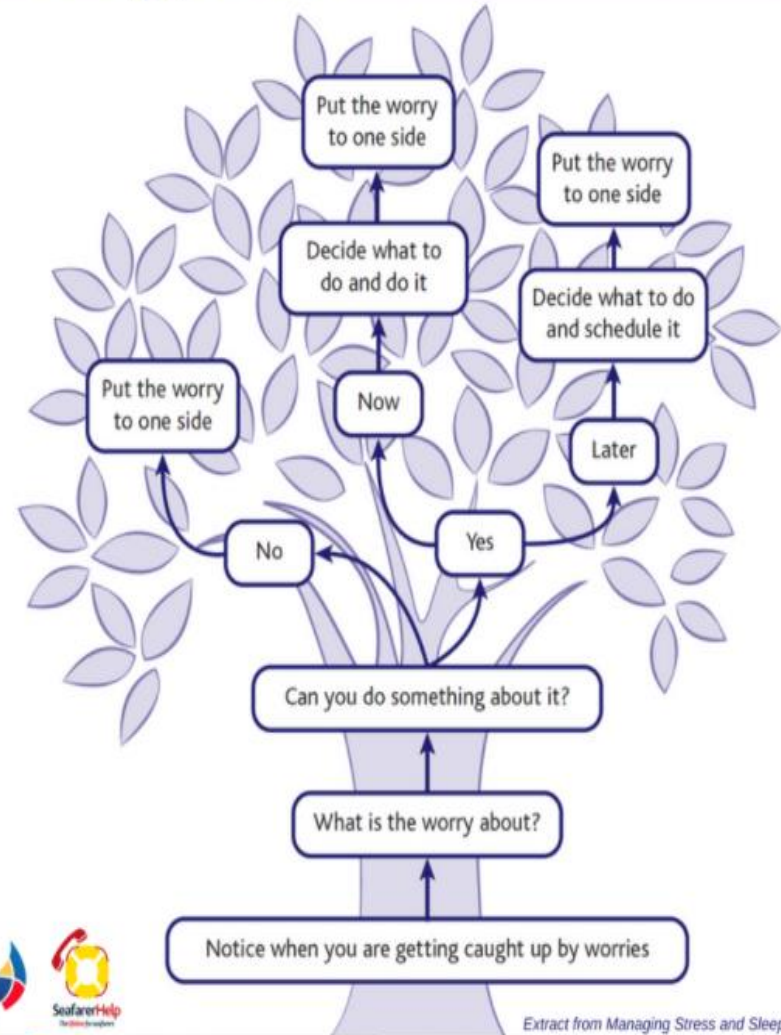

Younger children will probably not understand feelings as well as older children. Use pictures of different facial expressions e.g. happy, sad, angry, surprised, to help them identify and understand mental health.

Keep an open mind

Avoid being critical or dismissive of children's feelings and be accepting in order to normalise talking about it.

Worry Tree

Mental health top tips

Mental health affects the way we think and feel about ourselves and others, and how we respond to daily life. We can find it hard to talk about mental health but communicating and sharing feelings with our children can make all the difference.

Make yourself available

We all have busy lives and sometimes our children may feel we are too busy to chat. Make your presence known to your child and let them know you are happy to talk and listen to them about any worries they may have. You don't need to set aside lots of time to have a chat just opening up can make a difference. Keeping it informal and taking an interest in what they are doing allows opportunities to strike up a conversation.

Talk about your day

Set time aside each day to chat to each other about your day both the good and the less positive things that happened. Try ending the day on something positive ready for the next day.

Notice how your child communicates in other ways

Children and teenagers express themselves in different ways not just through talking but through play, music, behaviour, body language and facial expressions. You can learn a lot about how they may be feeling by spending time with them and watching them play or engage in activities.

Mental health top tips

Use appropriate language

- Depending on the age of the child, they may not understand the terminology associated with mental health. Children will understand the idea of feeling sad, stressed or anxious; explain that this is what is meant when we talk about mental health. For younger children, you can use face flash cards to illustrate different emotions.

Ask for help

Remember, no one has all the answers; not knowing things about mental health is OK. Don't be afraid to ask for help from family and friends, a doctor or support organisations.

Keep an open mind

Try to avoid being critical or dismissive of children's feelings and be accepting in order to normalise talking about mental health.

RELAXATION TIPS

Lockdown getting you down? Take some time out of your day and treat yourself to a little relaxation as a form of self-care. Looking after yourself and taking time to do things you enjoy is essential for good emotional wellbeing.

TAKE A BATH

A hot bath at the end of the day can help you relax and unwind, and gives you a chance to review your day.

HOBBIES

Take up a new hobby or delve back into something you already enjoy. Reading, knitting, crafting or listening to music are all great ideas.

PRACTICE MINDFULNESS

Download the 'Headspace' or 'Calm' app and take some time out of your day daily to practise mindfulness. Mindfulness meditation involves sitting silently and paying attention to thoughts, sounds, the sensations of breathing or parts of the body, bringing your attention back whenever the mind starts to wander.

breathe

TRY YOGA

Yoga can help you relax which can in turn assist in maintaining a good sleeping pattern. Regular exercise is wonderful for your emotional wellbeing & helps you stay supple & healthy.

Ways we can give to others

- Give words of gratitude and thanks - one small word of kindness can change someone's day.
- Give your special skills to help others - whether it's being creative, handy at DIY or good at budgeting, we all have strengths that could help others.
- Give your time to a cause that matters to you - protecting the environment or supporting a local charity.

How to tackle anxiety using Dr Anna's distraction technique

Anxious thoughts demand all of our attention.

Activities that require focus pulls us out of our heads and distracts us from these thoughts. With enough distraction, the anxiety will be starved of attention and will start to dwindle.

Anything that takes your child's entire focus could be used as a distraction from anxious thoughts, including:

1. A good chat
2. Playing a game
3. Watching a film
4. Baking a cake

YOUNGMINDS

Four things you can do if your teenager is struggling with their mental health

Don't ignore worrying symptoms

Talk to your child about the signs of depression that you've noticed and voice your concerns in a caring and non-judgmental way.

Avoid asking too many questions

Instead listen and empathise. You don't have to have the solutions.

If they don't want to talk try again the next day

Expressing feelings is hard enough at the best of time for teens, when they are depressed it's even more difficult.

Seek professional help

If nothing is helping and the symptoms are worsening, arrange an appointment with your GP.

HOW TO BE MINDFUL ON SOCIAL MEDIA
The 3 minute rule

1. Create a draft of your post or comment and wait 3 minutes.
2. Before you post it, do a gut check – Is it helpful? Is it kind? Is there any chance someone might be hurt or offended by it?
3. If you're unsure about how your post or comment might affect others, delete it and try again later.

YOUR MOOD IS MADE IN THE KITCHEN

Everybody knows how the food we eat affects our bodies, however, we often fail to remember how it affects our mood.

How does food affect our mental health

- Poor body image
- Anxiety and depression
- Development of eating disorders
- Poor concentration

Eating for a healthy mind

Achieving your 5 a day can greatly improve your mood and how you feel. A variety of fruit and veg should be consumed each day

Fish is an amazing source of omega-3 fatty acids which is important for your brain function. 2 portions should be eaten each week

Carbohydrates are essential for our energy levels, with the brain using 20% of the body's energy. Carbohydrates should be included in each meal with sources mainly coming from wholegrain e.g. brown rice, Wholegrain pasta and porridge oats

Protein is a building block for healthy minds, our sleep, brain function and mood will be affected if not included in our diet. Sources within the diet can include meat, eggs and nuts

Dehydration can be linked to low concentration, self-esteem and headaches. As a result 6-8 glasses of water should be consumed everyday. Alcohol intake should be limited.

Top tips for healthy eating

- Keep a food diary recording how you feel
- Plan your meals ahead of time
- Add variety to your diet

Other factors can affect your mood

Sleep

Exercise

Stress

Weather

lack of communication

Looking After Your Mental Health When Your Parents Separate

Five Finger Breathing

Being mindful means paying close attention to your thoughts and feelings.

1. Hold out one hand, palm out and fingers spread.
2. Using the pointer finger of your other hand, trace the side of the fingers in the stretched out hand.
3. Breathe in as you trace up.
4. Hold your breath for a second.
5. Breathe out as you trace down.
6. Repeat for each finger.

here

Try this...

Breathe in three's activity

- 1 Breathe in slowly for the count of three.
- 2 Hold your breath for the count of three.
- 3 Breathe out slowly for the count of three.

If your child feels worried or anxious, you can help them with some tools to feel calmer & more in control. We like the breathe in 3's activity. Why not try this breathe in 3's activity with your child, it might help you too.

BEREAVEMENT RESOURCES

The Cruse Bereavement Care NI 'Somewhere For Us' project has been created to bring young people together in NI after the death of a loved one. The project aims to form connections and lasting communities between those who have been bereaved through our Youth Advisory Group (YAG).

Has someone you love died? Are you between the ages of 12-24 years old living within Northern Ireland (NI)? Do you want to become part of a community of other young people who just 'get it'?

Talking to children about Grief & Loss

Assess your child's understanding

Your conversation with your child should be age appropriate as your child may not have any understanding of what happens when somebody dies. Try asking questions like "do you know why mummy/daddy is sad today?" or "do you know what it means when someone dies?"

Try not to use euphemisms

We can commonly use euphemisms to replace words or phrases that we think will be uncomfortable for others, but for children they can sometime confuse their understanding. Younger children will tend to think very literally. For example, "They've gone to a better place" may mean the child think the person has went somewhere great and could come back. (This might also be dependent on families' religious beliefs)

Validate their emotions

Remember that a wide range of emotions is normal with grief, so don't be surprised if the child seems to show little emotion or if they show an emotion like anger, worry, or fear. Acknowledge their emotions and let them know it is natural to experience lots of different emotions and this will encourage them to express themselves.

Be honest and straightforward

As parents we want to protect our children, but there is a range of research which shows that it is much better to tell children things than to keep them in the dark.

What you say will depend on your situation, but try to match the child's developmental level. Don't feel as though you have to tell them everything and try not to give more information than they can handle. With very young children stick to the basics - "this person has died and it's very sad". Between the ages of 7-12 you may find the child understands more about death and you could explain a little bit more. Give short, true answers and then see if the child follows up with any questions. Let the child lead the conversation with those questions, that way we don't provide too much information which might be overwhelming.

How to Support a Bereaved Person

#GriefAwarenessDay

Talk and listen.
Let them know you are thinking about them

Find out if they need more support. Let them know where it's available

Remember important dates.
Anniversaries and birthdays can be particularly painful

Offer practical help.
Try to make specific suggestions

Understand that grief doesn't ever go away. There will be times which are difficult years later

Be understanding of their needs. These will change from day to day, but do continue to check in

Help with Homework Top Tips

As your child progresses through their education journey, homework will remain a constant but ever changing part of this journey. Helping your child with their homework can be challenging but also rewarding. It will also give you an insight into what they are doing in school. Children are likely to be more successful in school if you take an active role in their education.

Nutritional Snack

Before your child starts their homework, provide a nutritious snack. During this time chat with your child about how their day was, ensuring they feel relaxed before they start their homework.

Routines

Establish a clear routine for your child to provide them with the space and time to enable them to concentrate on their homework. Plan with your child a homework timetable for the week so that they are aware of what is required of them on a daily basis but also include some time for fun.

Help with Homework Top Tips

Environment

Provide a space which encourages your child to want to complete their homework. Turn off distractions, e.g. television / mobile phone.

Helping

There will be many times when your child doesn't know the answer and will look to you to give them the answer. Don't rush in to tell them the answer just to get the task finished. Instead encourage them to work through the task to find the solution and answer themselves.

How I Was Taught

Your child will likely be learning new ways to complete tasks which will be different from the way you learnt at school. Don't try to teach your child your method, as this may lead to confusion. If you are unsure of the new technique it may be worth making a time to speak to your child's teacher.

Your Time

As a parent you may be busy during homework time juggling many things. Turn off your mobile phone if you can, reduce your distractions, ensure you provide the space to help support your child with homework.

HOW TO PLAY

1. The players divide themselves into two teams.
2. The leader chooses the first player from one of the teams.
3. The leader then secretly gives this player a film or book title to act out.
4. The player is not allowed to use sounds, to mouth words or use drawing.
5. It is the job of the player's team to guess what the name of the film or book is.
6. If they are able to guess then the team gets a point.
7. Repeat with a player from the opposite team.

VARIATION

Think about acting out different feelings that the players have been learning in their SEL lessons.

Bookworm Craft

- Cut out circles from different pieces of coloured card, or use foam circles.

How to Grow a Rainbow

You will need:

- Kitchen roll/paper towel
- Felt tip pens
- Two small bowls of water
- Paper clip
- Thread

1. Cut your kitchen roll into the shape of a rainbow.
2. Colour a rainbow with felt tips about 2 cm up on both sides.
3. Attach your paper clip to the top and tie a piece of thread to it. This will give you something to hold your rainbow with.
4. Fill each small container with water.
5. Hold your rainbow with the ends slightly submerged in the water then watch your rainbow grow!

THE SCIENCE

A brief introduction to 'capillary action'! Water molecules like to stick to things - including themselves. Sticking to things is called adhesion and sticking to itself is called cohesion. The fibres in kitchen roll make lots of little holes. Water is 'sucked' through the holes because of adhesion (liking to stick to other things) and cohesion (liking to stick to itself) means the rest of the water follows. The water pressure will eventually slow down and the pressure of gravity will mean it stops moving.

Simplicity in difficult times

SureStart

'It takes a whole village to raise a child'

No cook playdough recipe

Use the same cup to measure:
 4 cups of plain flour
 1/3 cup of cooking oil
 1 cup of salt
 7 teaspoons of cream of tartar
 3 to 4 cups of boiling water

Put all ingredients into a large bowl.

Add the 2 cups of water, I would add essence and food colouring at this stage by putting it into the cups of boiling water, followed by a 3rd cup of water.

Keep mixing and kneading the dough, until it becomes firm like bread dough if it needs more water just add more in gradually.

If your mixture becomes sticky the trick is to add a teaspoon of oil or a little more.

This playdough needs a lot of kneading so it cooks while you knead, be patient enjoy it, its very relaxing.

This playdough will last up to 4 weeks in an air tight container. This is a large amount you could however break it up and have a selection of different colours.

Den building

All that's required is household items or things found in your garden and lots of imagination! Dens can be any shape or size and based outdoors in your garden, for example using just a blanket and a tree, or indoors using items such as cushions, chairs, tables and boxes.

If you don't have a lot of space mini dens could be created for favourite toys! The best dens, and those which are the most fun, are built and designed by children!

Den building offers many benefits such as respect for and understanding of the natural environment and can help children develop many skills such as problem solving, reasoning, communication, planning and motor skills.

Mastery play - Control of the physical and affective ingredients of the environments, like digging holes or constructing shelters. This play activity can also incorporate many of the other play types.

Play Types developed by Bob Hughes - A Taxonomy of Play Types

www.playboard.org

Bug Hotel

Going on a bug hunt and creating a bug hotel offers lots of opportunities to explore and to discuss nature and the environment.

You can make your bug hotel out of materials you have at home or in your garden such as old plant pots or half a plastic bottle, and fill with bug friendly bits and bobs of different shapes and sizes for insects and bugs to crawl into such as sticks, wood, bark, leaves, stones, flowers, grass etc.

Once you have opened your bug hotel just wait for the bugs and creatures to move in!

Singing in the rain

- Go puddle jumping - who can make the biggest splash? Make a dam or a bridge over a big puddle or race leaves.
- Water play - using a large container or basin and other pots, pans, kitchen utensils, watering can, jugs, bath toys etc.
- Make a magic potion or soup using leaves, twigs and other things found in your garden.
- Go on a wet and windy adventure walk and sing and dance in the rain!
- Draw on a paper towel with markers and place in the rain to see what is created.
- Discover how much it rains by collecting in an old milk jug, cut in half. Use what you have collected to water your indoor plants.
- Make an outdoor mud kitchen.

*Remember to wash hands thoroughly after playing with mud. It's a good idea to have old clothes, shoes and towels set aside for muddy play.

Looking for leaves

For ages
3-6 yrs

Leaves come in all sorts of colours, shapes and sizes. Some have hidden scents, some make wonderful sounds and there are many different textures to explore.

Watch leaves dance as they fall to the floor.

Look for leaf shapes

- Star-shaped
- Wobbly edges
- Pointed
- Long and thin
- Short and round

Interesting textures

Find leaves that feel tickly or prickly, waxy or hairy, rough or smooth.

Can you find?

Tree smells

Find a Douglas fir, rub the leaves and smell the hidden citrus scent.

Can you find?

The leaves of Douglas fir trees are flat needles

Make a leaf pile, put your feet into it and rustle, or stomp to create leaf music!

Tree sounds

Stand really still and listen to the wind in the tree tops.

Leaf snake

Lay some leaves in a line on the floor to create a leaf-snake winding through the trees!

Healthy Snacks

Many kids get hungry between meals. A healthy snack can provide your kids with energy and help them get the nutrients they need on a daily basis.

Healthy snack options:

Fruit: A piece of fruit is a convenient and healthy snack for kids. Most fruits contain fibre and important nutrients like potassium and vitamins A and C - Bananas, apples, pears, grapes, peaches, and plums are examples of fruits that can be used for grab-and-go snacks.

Fruit smoothies: A fruit smoothie is a good way to pack a lot of nutrients into a small snack.

Yogurt: Yogurt is an excellent snack for children and young people because it's a good source of protein and calcium. Calcium is especially important for developing bones. Try to avoid yogurts with high sugar content.

Cheese: Cheese provides children with high-quality protein, which is needed for proper growth. Protein will also help them feel full between meals

Boiled eggs: Eggs are highly nutritious and an excellent snack for kids. They provide high-quality protein and several vitamins and minerals, including vitamin B12

Simple snacks

A sandwich/roll

Sandwiches don't have to be just for mealtime. Half a sandwich can also make a healthy snack for kids. To build a healthy sandwich, start with whole-wheat bread, pick a source of protein, and include a fruit or veggie, if possible. Here are some examples of healthy sandwich combinations:

- cheddar cheese and thinly sliced apples
- cheese and tomato slices
- peanut butter and banana slices
- Chicken or turkey, cheese, and or pickle
- hard-boiled egg and tomato

Sweet potato fries (for one)

- 1 fresh sweet potato
- 1 teaspoon (5 ml) of olive oil
- Sea salt

Peel and slice the sweet potato. Toss the potato in olive oil and sprinkle it with sea salt. Bake on a cookie sheet at 220°C for 20 minutes.

Banana oat cookies

- 3 ripe bananas, mashed
- 80 ml of coconut oil
- 160 grams of rolled oats
- 80-90 grams of mini chocolate chips or dried fruit
- 1 teaspoon (5 ml) of vanilla

Mix all ingredients in a bowl. Place spoonfuls of the cookie mixture onto a grease proof paper and bake for 15-20 minutes at 175°C. Leave to cool

15 Foods You Can Regrow from Scraps

Don't throw away those old potatoes! There are lots of foods you can regrow from scraps - it's easy, free, and you don't need a lot of space to keep fresh produce ready all year long!

 Green Onion Plant the bulbs in a pot or container garden so that the top of the stalk pokes out of the dirt	 Onion Save the bottom piece of the onion that contains the roots! This one piece of onion can be used to re-grow two or more onions
 Kale Once your kale plants are mature, clip off leaves as needed, starting with the larger leaves at the bottom of the stem	 Sweet Potato Sweet potatoes are grown a little differently than regular potatoes. To regrow sweet potatoes, you plant the sprouts, or "slips"
 Leeks Save bulbs with at least an inch or two of the stalk. Plant the bulbs in the ground with the stalk peeking out	 Ginger Plant a piece of ginger root in a pot with soil, water, and wait for it to sprout
 Basil Cut the stem, keeping a few leaves attached. Place in a jar of water to generate roots, then you can move to a planter	 Mint Mint is a fairly easy plant to grow and spreads quickly on its own. You can regrow mint cuttings as you would basil
 Garlic Simply bury the cloves under about an inch of soil and keep watered. The garlic is ready to harvest when it starts to turn yellow	 Rosemary Cut a 3" piece from a mature plant. Strip the leaves from the bottom half of the cutting and plant that end in soil
 Potatoes Cut a sprouting potato so that each chunk has an eye and a sprout. Plant with the eye facing up and cover with a few inches of dirt	 Cilantro Like basil, cilantro can be regrown from cuttings. Once you have a mature cilantro plant, you can cut leaves as needed
 Romaine Lettuce You can plant the bottom end of a head of Romaine in soil, water, and it will start to regrow leaves	 Celery Celery can be regrown by saving the base and placing in a cup of water until leaves sprout. Then transfer the celery plant to a pot with soil
Bok Choy Bok Choy can be regrown just like romaine lettuce!

Tips for play with your baby

Research shows 75% of your child's brain development occurs after birth. Play helps promote that development by stimulating the brain through the formation of connections between nerve cells.

It's never too early to introduce play so why not try:

- Get close to your baby give them time to study your face. Stick your tongue out or pull facial expressions and they may mimic these back.
- Sing or try nursery rhymes that involve touch e.g. 'round and round the garden'
- Talk to your baby, mirror the sounds they make, give kisses and use tickles and gentle touch.
- Play peek-a-boo using a sheet or your hands.
- Role play hand clapping and encourage your baby to try.
- Give your baby different objects to feel – soft toys, rattles or cloth books with pages of different textures – discovery is fun for babies.
- Use bath time as a relaxing way to introduce bubbles and water play.

ParentingNI TIPS FOR DEVELOPING SPEECH AND LANGUAGE

Make every opportunity a language learning activity – if it's a trip to the shops, or bath-time, you can make every activity a language learning activity. You don't have to set aside a specific time of day to learn language; every activity is a language learning activity.

- Use simple, repetitive language
- Be a good model
- Sing songs & nursery rhymes
- Read to them – books can be used in many ways to develop language and early literacy skills
- Turn off the TV and take out the dummy – children do not learn language and social skills by watching TV.
- Research suggests too much TV watching prior to starting school can affect listening and attention skills.
- Make time to sit down with your child to chat during play or look at book and talk about the pictures
- Let your child lead play. This can build self-confidence and does not put pressure on them to talk and respond to the adult all the time.

Information for parents and carers

Everyone has a role to play in keeping our schools safe and helping to stop the spread of COVID-19. Please don't send your child to school if they have COVID-19 symptoms such as:

- a high temperature
- a new continuous cough
- loss of or change to their sense of taste or smell

If your child does not have symptoms of COVID-19 but has other cold-like symptoms, such as a runny nose, they do not need to be tested and they or members of your household do not need to self-isolate. Your child can attend school if fit to do so.

Contact tracing and self-isolation procedures have recently changed, so here's what to do in particular cases.

Contact tracing will be done by the Contact Tracing Service at the Public Health Agency (PHA). They will call from the number 028 9536 8888 – save the number in your phone so that you recognise it and please answer if they call.

My child has COVID-19 symptoms

- Book your child a PCR test as soon as possible.
- They should isolate until they get their result. If it is negative they can carry on as normal and return to school as long as they are well (no fever for 48 hours).
- If it is positive they should isolate for 10 days. You will receive further information by text message and a contact tracing call from the PHA.
- You should advise your child's school or nursery that they have tested positive.

You can book a PCR test online via www.gov.uk/get-coronavirus-test or by calling 119 if you can't go online.

Someone in our household is positive

Stick sparklers into a carrot so the kids can hold them safely

It's great for little hands that need something chunky to hold & easier for them to grip.

You will need:

- 100ml PVA glue
- ½ tsp of bicarbonate of soda
- gel food colouring
- 1 tsp of contact lens solution

Add the 100ml of PVA glue and ½ tsp of bicarbonate of soda into a bowl and mix well.

Add a couple of drops of food colouring, 1 tsp of contact lens solution and mix.

Once the slime has formed, take it out and knead it until you have a smooth and pliable ball.

Haunted House

You will need:

- cardboard box or shoeboxes
- paint, markers, crayons
- glue
- scissors
- toy figures
- scraps of paper, fabric, wallpaper, carpet
- old magazines
- spooky accessories

Caramel Apples

Ingredients

- 7 small granny smith apples (about 2 1/4 lbs)
- 15 oz. caramels, such as Werther's Chewy*
- 3 Tbsp heavy cream
- Various toppings, optional (see notes())

Instructions

1. Rinse and thoroughly dry apples with a paper towel. Insert a caramel apple stick. Having toppings ready if you'll be adding some to apples.
2. Line a 13 by 9-inch baking sheet or baking dish with a sheet of parchment paper, spray parchment paper with non-stick cooking spray, set in the fridge.
3. Place caramels and heavy cream in a microwave safe bowl (about 5 cup size bowl)*.
4. Heat in microwave in 30 second increments, stirring well between intervals, until melted and smooth. This will take about 2 - 3 minutes. If caramel is extra runny let it cool just briefly so it doesn't run right off the apples.
5. Dip apples one at a time into caramel on an angle so it covers nearly to the top center. Rotate and turn to coat apple. Lift apple and let excess run off, then run bottom of apple along inside edge of bowl to remove excess caramel. Lift apple and turn apple upside down to let caramel run up the apple a little then immediately roll in toppings (or sprinkle with toppings) before caramel sets.
6. Turn apples upright and place on prepared baking sheet in fridge, repeat process with remaining apples. As needed reheat caramel in microwave in 15 second increments for a runny, dip-able consistency.
7. Allow caramel to set completely, about 30 minutes in the fridge (you can eat them before this but if you want caramel to firm back up the wait the 30 minutes). Cut apples into slices just when ready to enjoy so they don't brown.

3. Using a spoon, scoop out the insides and place it in a bowl.
4. Keep in the fridge and use it for smoothies later on.
5. Sketch the desired face of your Jack-o-lantern.
6. Using a small knife, cut along chosen design.
7. Remove loose pieces of orange skin and discard them.
8. Fill them up with fruit and put the stem back on.
